

Thanks so much to all of you who shared your memories of Livingston College in response to the posting of our timeline last month. One of the messages really summed up the Livingston spirit. See it here on the Livingston Alumni Association's blog.

As they say in television-land, here are some programming notes:

- This is the last chance to register for our Wednesday, October 13, Livingston Legacy Philosophy program, taking place at the Livingston Student Center at 7:00 p.m. Members of the Philosophy Department (which is the top Philosophy Department in the nation) will share their experiences about the formation and growth of their program at Livingston, its growth throughout Rutgers University and its overall impact on the University and global communities. Panelists are scheduled to include professors Martha Bolton, Martin Bunzl, Mary Gibson, Peter Klein, Howard McGarry, Brian McLaughlin and Dwight Murph. Refreshments will be served, and there will be opportunities to network with the panelists, alumni, and students.

- As alumni, we feel a special connection with Livingston, Rutgers, and its students, which makes the Alumni-Student Career Speed Networking Night such a successful event. This event is dedicated to providing current students with support and networks to help them with their transition into becoming our future alumni. Register now for the next event, to take place on Wednesday, November 17, 2010 at the Rutgers Student Center on College Avenue, New Brunswick.
- Congratulations to Jessie Hanna LC'07, who will be receiving the Edward J. Bloustein Award on October 22 from the Rutgers University Alumni Association in recognition of his community service activities. In November 2007, Jessie founded the Sean Hanna Foundation in honor of his brother, Sean, who passed away from pediatric cancer. The nonprofit foundation provides assistance to families and organizations battling cancer. A true community service star, Jessie has also been active with Jessie's Wish, The Blood Center of NJ, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and various church groups. Learn more and purchase tickets
- Save Saturday, May 14, 2011, for the Livingston Distinguished Alumni Awards. Rutgers basketball star Eddie Jordan LC'77 and Motorola Co-CEO Gregory Brown LC'82, along with Professors Jerome Aumente, Gerry Pomper, and Larry Ridley, are among our scheduled honorees. Stay tuned for more information.

Best wishes,

Marty Siederer LC'77
