PRESERVING THE HISTORY.
ADVANCING THE LEGACY.

Happy Holidays from the Livingston Alumni Association (LAA)!

Alumna of the Month: Francoise Jacobsohn has been an advocate for women and workers since the 1970s. She currently serves as the Court Compliance Officer for a metal workers' union, ensuring that its workplaces are free from discrimination. Jacobsohn graduated from Livingston College in 1979. In 2009, the LAA honored her as a Distinguished Alumna.

The Core, the Livingston campus radio station, is looking for alumni to share their activist experiences from Livingston College. Alumni will be interviewed by phone, or in person if available to come to the campus. If you've got a few minutes to share some of your Livingston experiences with the students on campus today, please email Bhavna Bhatia, Public Affairs Director at The Core (Publicaffairs@thecore.fm).

Did you know that Livingston College's first student newspaper was called Fango, and debuted in spring 1970, six months after the college opened? (By fall 1970, the paper had been renamed The Medium.) You can read the first five issues of Fango, and several early issues of The Medium, as part of our Livingston Legacy history project.

Would you like to help us preserve the history and advance the legacy of Livingston College? We particularly need people interesting in interpreting a rich archive of yearbooks and other materials we have recently scanned and archived, including early student publications. For details, please email us.

Save the date! Mark your calendars for the next All-Alumni Theater Night, to held Saturday, April 22, 2017, for the Livingston Theatre Company's production of Oklahoma! More details and a registration link will be announced in spring 2017.
